FRIENDS OF THE WESTERN GROUND PARROT

WINE ORDER FORM

The Western Ground Parrot occurs only in Western Australia. Its stronghold is Cape Arid National Park. Very few birds remain. In 2010 the number of birds was estimated at only 140. Conservation measures are being put in place, but it is a race against time. Proceeds from the sale of this wine support ongoing research and on-ground conservation activities. We believe that with our help, the Western Ground Parrot can make a comeback.

Jim and Chris Creighton of Condingup Vineyard, east of Esperance in Western Australia have kindly offered to support fundraising for the Western Ground Parrot with a proportion of sales of two wines going to saving this critically endangered.

2005 Shiraz – has a sophisticated, earthy and ripe, fresh strawberry bouquet reminiscent of a great pinot noir. Due to strict use of the European method of extended 2 week contact of the juice with the seeds, skins and stalks, rich fruit rather than pepper flavour is evident, which has perfectly integrated with oak following 60 months in rare Hungarian oak barrels.

2004 Touriga Nationale - this unique red wine made from the Portuguese grape, has matured for 6 years in French oak barrels. Extended contact of the juice with the skins and seed was allowed, according to the European method produce wine with a richer, more complex fruit flavour. This wine has a bouquet of dark plum and honey. Flavours of ripe, sweet cherry and chocolate persist on the palate.
